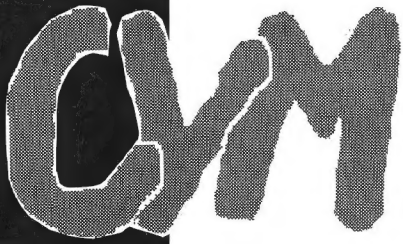
Letter From The Editor



To CVM Reader

From Comics Values Monthly

Welcome, to the 103rd Edition of Comics Values Monthly. Those of you who have been with us form the beginning, way back in Feb. of 1986, remember that our first magazine was only 42 pages long. Most of those pages were the comic listings themselves. There was no color to speak of and the listings were made up of the issue number and price value, with no, if any information to go along with them. The hot topics of the month were Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles (Hard to believe they have been around that long), Art Adams, Daredevil, Robotech and Thundercats. A comic fan could pick up a Superman 100 for a almost reasonable $160.00 compared to $1100.00 today (that's an increase of approximately 687%). The closest resemblance is the cover price, $2.50 for CVM #1 compared to $2.95 for CVM 103.

We sure have seen a multitude of changes over the years, and we expect to see plenty more while we are under our new banner. Our pages now include almost 80 pages of comic listings, a comic card listing and an action figure listing. In future issues there are possible plans for a game card listing for game set listings, such as Magic Cards, and many more Surprise Features. In issue #106 we'll focus on the X-Men and the recent developments of the After Xavier storyline, which will have concluded. I'm sorry to say that the Simple and Eggbert feature is postponed to a later issue due to space restrictions.

For our future CVMail feature, we would like to hear your first comic experience. Please tell us Who, What, When, How, and Where you first fell in love with comics. I think that all of us younger dudes (I'm the editor I can take liberties) would like to read about the difficulties of obtaining those early editions of Superman and Spider-Man. Write to:

Future Picks

April is a huge month for the mighty Marvel, starting with the conclusion of the After Xavier storyline. All 9 of the X-titles are X-tremely recommended. The climax occurs in the chromium covered X-Men:Omega. Note, everyone and their grandparents will want this book, so grab it while you can. The honor of the creation of this book falls to Scott Lobdell, Fabian Nicieza, Marc Waid and Roger Cruz. The Spider-Man family is launching incredible events routinely in all of the related titles. For example, in Spectacular Spider-Man #225, An all new Green Goblin is introduced. The comic sports a incredible 3D holodisk cover.

Have you ever wondered where those wacky Symbiotes originated? Wonder no more. Marvel tells all in the "Planet of the Symbiotes" storyline, Which begins in Amazing Spider-Man Super Size Special # 1 sired by David Michelinie and Dave Hoover. Doom conquers the world and the 2099 line. All 2099 titles will be renamed 2099 A.D. and produced on higher quality stock to signify the occupation. All of you Punisher fans brace yourself, the big bad gun maniac's three titles will begin the countdown to cancellation. Fear not, the Punisher will not totally disappear, but will consolidate himself into an all new Punisher title. The countdown starts at 4 in Punisher #103 and continues in Punisher War Journal #79 with number 3. Both issues sport a cover by Jae Lee.

DC continues to put out the most exciting adventures they have produced in years. One, in particular is garnering much attention. "The Death of Clark Kent" story races on in the following order: part 3 is in Action Comics #710, part 4 occurs in Superman: Man of Steel #45, part 5 happens in Superman #101, and part 6 is in Adventures Of Superman. Also happening in April is the return of Hal Jordan, the original Green Lantern, featured in Green Lantern #63. Justice League America #100 celebrates the century mark with both a foil enhanced cover and a standard edition. Along with all their other titles DC introduces quite a few new ones. Loose Cannon #1, Triumph #1, Goddess #1, and Tank Girl: the Odyssey are the new comers to the party.

Ghost returns to Dark Horse in her own regular series done by Eric Luke, Adam Hughes and Mark Farmer. Looney Tunes Wolf & Red , originally created by Tex Avery, move to the comic pages, along side of Droopy, Spike and a calvacade of crazy cartoon comedians.

Image, besides releasing new titles such as Glory, Ripclaw, Knightmare, Power of the Mark, Prophet (Regular Series) and Jim Valentino's The Others, produces some of the best graphically produced books on the market today. This plethora of titles includes one of the best selling books for the last three years, Spawn. In Spawn # 31 an all new more powerful Redeemer returns, causing a transformation in Spawn's own costume. All Image titles are recommended.

Birthquake continues at Acclaim Comics, which ships the Valiant line bi-monthly now. Beside Birthquake, Acclaim is cashing in on the popularity of the Magic card game. One of Acclaim's imprints called Armada is producing Magic The Gathering comics. Magic: The Gathering-The Shadow Mage and Ice Age-A Magic The Gathering are recommended for fantasy lovers.

In the recent past, many new publishers have taken the field of the paper battle. Using special covers, huge marketing campaigns and good old fashioned quality work, these publishers have taken strides to own thier own corners of the market share. Antartic Press gives us Warrior Nun Areala, which has stunning art and colors. Another publisher, Crusade, issues Shi the Way of the Warrior Fan Appreciation Edition #1 to all of us who helped make the book such a success. Entity, producers of Zen Intergalatic Ninja, have hired the talents of Joel Orbeta to help the blue skinned one to get the respect he deserves. Another new comer, Eternal Studios , may have an interesting premiere issue with Archangels the Saga #1. Malibu reveals Metaphysique #1 and Eliminator #0, to try and give thierselves a boost. Also from Malibu comes the 1st full crossover with Marvel Rune/Silver Surfer #1. For the high tech fans Futuretech #2 and Inner Circle #0.2, from Mushroom Comics are for you. Teckno comics, winner of the best marketing campaign of 1994, introduces, Mr. Nasty himself, Tecknophage #1. This book joins the Teckno stable which includes, Gene Roddenberry's Lost Universe #5, Leonard Nimoy's Primortals , and Neil Gaiman's Mr. Hero the Newmatic Man.

NEIL GAIMAN'S WHEEL OF WORLDS

The success of Neil Gaiman's Mr. Hero- The Newmatic Man and the strong fan interest in the Tecknophage, Gaiman's darkest character yet, have led Gaiman and Teckno Comix to produce a special backstory bool to release in March, 1995. The book will answer a lot of questions about these popular new characters and will also launch an entire universe of Gaima-created characters from Teckno-Comix.

The special Zero issue of Neil Gaiman's Wheel of Worlds will include three separate stories on the origins of Gaiman's first three Teckno Comix characters: Mr. Hero, a steam powered robot from the Victorian era, the evil Tecknophage, and Lady Justice, a mysterious force of rightgeous justice, in her first appearance. The 48-page comic will be plotted by Gaiman and John Ney Rieber (Books of Magic), scripted by Rick Veitch (Swamp Thing), C.J. Henderson (Punisher: The Prize), James Vance (Kings in Disguise). The title will feature artwork from Ted Slampyak (Quantum Creep), Bryon Talbot (Hellblazer, Sandman), and Angus McKie (colorist on Frank Miller's Martha Washington Goes to War). The comic will also include a pull-out poster with sketches by McKie and Talbot and artwork by Slampyak.

First seen in the pages of Neil Gaiman's Mr. Hero- The Newmatic Man, the Wheel of Worlds is Gaiman's innovative concept to enable his Teckno Comix characters to travel between co-exsisting universes. Utilizing the Wheel, Tecknophage, Mr. Hero, and Lady Justice come together for a round of storytelling on the wretched world of Albion, under the watchful eye of the mysterious Adam Cain, the only character in Gaiman's Teckno Verse for whom Tecknophage seems to have any respect and a small amount of fear.

The storytelling not only provides a glimpse into the baackground and origins of the three key characters, but it also reveals key personality traits. Mr. Hero is the warmhearted automaton, and his good- and open-natured personality gets him both in and out of trouble. Very powerful when fully loaded with coal for his steam driven mechanics. Mr. Hero can easily defeat a ruthless gang, but can also fall prey to the many simple tricks up Tecknophage's sleeve. The Tecknophage is as evil a creature as has ever exsisted-he relishes in the agony he can inflict-but his pride in his abilities can cause him to overstep. And while he dominates the galaxy through his use of the Wheel and his ruthless abilities to corrupt innocent people to join his cause, he is not yet a match for Lady Justice, a force that in this story has taken over a young girl who already had power to place her thoughts into the minds of others- and keep them there. And justice is certainly not the frame of mind Tecknophage wants to be in-now or ever.

"We knew comics fans would like the characters Neil has created for Teckno Comix," said Teckno Comix co founder Michell Rubenstein, "but we had no idea that the demand for additional information about these characters would be so strong." "We are pleased to be able to offer fans what they are asking for: a thorough backstory for each of Neils first three characters. In addition, Neil Gaiman's Wheel of Worlds, serves as a perfect jumping on point for new fans."

Neil Gaiman's Wheel of Worlds will be available in two editions, a standard newsstand edition and a special Direct Market Edition. The latter will include no ads nor letter pages-just a good old-fashioned comic story. The books special wrap around cover by McKie on heavy cardstock, and it includes an exclusive sketchbook of never-before-seen concept artwork by Talbot, McKie, Slampyak, Kris Renkewitz, and Brian Stelfreeze.

Following the release of Neil Gaiman's Wheel of Worlds, Teckno Comix will launch titles for Neil Gaiman's Tecknophage in April and Neil Gaiman's Lady Justice in May.

Mikey Spillane's Mike Danger

It is the year 1995, and the comics industry is no longer an idyllic place. Fans are clamoring for something different, interesting, and fun. Enter Mickey Spillane, who revolutionized the idea of the hard-boiled private eye in the 1940's with the best selling Mike Hammer™ novels, which are still read voraciously after 50 years.

Spillane actually created the Mike Danger character in the 1940's while contributing scripts to Captain America, Sub-Mariner, and Captain Marvel, the leading comics of the day. Before he could fully develop the character for comics, however, Spillane began writing the best-selling Mike Hammer novels, beginning with I, The Jury. Fifty years later, Spillane has come back to comics and Mike Danger.

You want to know about Mike Danger, asks Spillane. "Here's a guy who's not a good guy." " He and the cops are on the same side, but he's barely over that line. He's big, he's tough, and he's rough. the guy's conscience factor is low... He could shoot and kill a bad guy and he doesn't feel that bad."

It is the year 2052, and the brave new world of New New York seems to be an idyllic place. New-2, as it is known, features clean, safe malls and developments, and sparkling residential skyrises. Employment, housing, and health care are a given; crime is virtually unknown. Of course, certain sacrifices have been made, but a controlled, conformist society was a price every citizen was willing to pay in the name of progress. Until now.

Enter Mike Danger, a legendary private eye from the 1940s who was declared missing and presumed dead, but who has now been revived from the chemically-supported hibernation chamber in which he was trapped by an escaped Nazi war criminal in 1950.

The timing of Mike Danger's release from hibernation is fortuitous-for him at least-as New-2 is going through a 1950s fashion revival and he represents a living, breathing icon from this age. As such, he is permitted much more latitude than other citizens of New-2, even though his rugged individuality, which made him stand out even in his day, makes him clearly unwelcome by the powers-that-be.

Unwilling to conform to the New Age Everything Is Beautiful mindset, Danger's one-man investigations lead him to discover that New-2 is not as idyllic as it seems-and that he was not the only person awakened from a hibernation chamber after 100 years.

©1995 BIG Entertainment. All Rights Reserved.

Mickey Spillane's Mike Danger #1, titled "Danger Ahead," will release in May, 1995, and will begin a six-part mini series. Issue #1 takes place in 1952, and it sets the stage for Danger to enter the hibernation chamber, where he remains until he is brought back to life in the year 2052 in issue #2.

Mickey Spillane's Mike Danger will take the reader on an amazing tour of the future through the eyes of the past. This journey will benefit from the top-flight creative team featuring two of Spillane's biggest fans, Frank Miller and Max Allan Collins.

Miller will provide pencils and inks for the cover for Mickey Spillane's Mike Danger #1. Like Spillane, Miller has had major impact on the way people think about this industry. He transformed the notion of a superhero with his vision of a dark, brooding Batman in Batman: The Dark Knight Returns. In addition, Miller counts Spillane among the key influences for Sin City, his creator-owned title published under Dark Horse's Legend imprint.

"As far as the Spillane reference," said Miller, "I would never deny [it]. He's my favorite writer and he's bound to have a big effect on how I approach this stuff." Miller said he was excited to be included in the powerful creative team for Mickey Spillane's Mike Danger, which includes Max Allan Collins as writer, Eduardo Barreto as penciler, and Steve Leialoha as inker.

Collins, who wrote the Dick Tracy comic strip for 15 years and who has two Private Eye Writers of America Shamus Awards to his credit, also considers Spillane a mentor of sorts for his work. "I learned from a lot of writers," Collins said, "but no writer was a bigger influence on me than Mickey."

Working with Spillane's original Mike Danger character, Collins said he " developed four basic ideas that merged Spillane's approach with science fiction elements to make the project fit more naturally into the Teckno Comix universe." "We narrowed down on one, Collins said, which was taking the Mike Danger character [of] the late 1940s into the future. Together, we developed the premise for Mikey Spillane's Mike Danger."

Debuting in May, 1995, Mikey Spillane's Mike Danger provides Spillane the opportunity, with a little help from his friends and admirers, to take his favorite hard-boiled private eye with a penchant for truth, justice and lovely ladies, and lead him to the 50s again- but this time, it's the 2050's!

FANMOVERS

SOUTHWEST

COMIC GALLERY
DENNIS SHARP & RAY RAPPAPORT, SAN DIEGO

(DC) Demand for DC comics has increased over the past few months. Fan appreciation for the "Death of Clark Kent" storyline has increased interest in all SUPERMAN titles. Some smaller titles, DAMAGE, OUTSIDERS, PRIMAL FORCE, etc. are finding their fan base, and sales are up slightly. VERTIGO remains a strong seller, with HELLBLAZER and SANDMAN leading the line. PARADOX PRESS- still an unknown quantity.

(MARVEL) Several titles have hit the skids recently, including NAMOR, HELLSTORM, and THUNDERSTRIKE. The 'Send in The Clone' storyline in the SPIDEY titles has renewed interest in those books, but only by a small margin. The "Age of Apocalypse" storyline has garnered mixed feelings among fans, with some opting to stop collecting "X-books" for the duration. (Personally, I am enjoying them.) Fan response to the 'Marveloution' has been mixed.

(ALTERNATIVES) Valiant has slowed considerably, sometimes 18 copies of certain titles or less. Not much interest in the "Birthquake" so far. DARK HORSE has stabled, with the STAR WARS titles outselling all others. IMAGE has had some winners recently -WARBLADE, GRIFTER: ONE SHOT, and CYBLADE ORIGINS. Hard to keep them on the shelf. MALIBU has dropped considerably, even with the impending merger of Marvel characters. Most are at 25 or less, with MANTRA the big seller. Smaller CO's to watch: PEN & INK and MULEHIDE. Teri Wood's WANDERING STAR is a consistently good book, with tight plot and wonderful art. Drew's POISON ELVES is a true sleeper. Reorders continue to fly off the shelves, even though we're into later printings. Turn your readers on to them today.

INFO REQUEST: We have just begun to try "GENRE RACKING". Any input form other retailers that are on similar systems would be appreciated.

DC- The Superman Family still rides on Clark Kent's shoulders, while Superboy, Steel, and Supergirl appearances are slow movers. Bruce Wayne is back, but more interest lies in the Batman/Predator books. Azreal looks like a winner, number one sold well, but can it survive as an ongoing series? Star Trek bookshelf and prestige movie adaptations were good movers during the films initial saturation in theaters.

Marvel- Changes, Rearranges, and cancellations! The Age of Apocalypse X-books are enjoying brisk sales, X-Man seems to be the front-runner. The Legion Quest lead-in stories have sold well also. Spidey books got a boost from the Web of Death and Smoke and Mirrors storylines, and in 20 years we find out Aunt May was cloned. Give Venom a regular title already! What exactly is a Blackwulf? Most second string Marvel books are floundering.

Other Publishers- The shining stars at Image continue to be Spawn and just about anything from Wildstorm Productions. Extreme books are dying a slow death, with the exception of the "Chapel Death" Youngblood. Dark Horse Star Wars books are in hot demand, as well as any of Frank Miller's books. Godwheel looks interesting, and customers seem to think so too. Another hot book at the moment is Topps X-Files. We can't keep it on the shelves! Any Bad Girl books, (Vampirella, Lady Death, Shi) are the new most requested back issues. Valiant books move extremely slow.

DC- Here we go again..... They're killing Clark Kent. Dealers I've talked to say they have ordered very conservatively on this one. Has this book been underordered?? Meanwhile .... Superman will be dealing with Aliens. (That's right, teeth, fangs, Acid For Blood, not one but a hive full) remember Chris Claremont? The guy who for 15 years , turned the X-Men world around? His creator owned Sovereign Seven ships on March! Watch out for this one!!!!! Sandman is leading all Vertigo sales with Jonah Hex close. We eagerly await Preacher #1. DC has also started two new quarterly Superman and Batman titles that will coincide with regular continuity. Superman: The Man of Tomorrow and Batman Chronicles #1.

MARVEL- Marvel continues as the industry leader. We can't estimate what true sales in X-Tiles would have been because we sold out of almost everything ordered during the Age of Apocalypse and with the chromium covered X-Men: Prime #1 launching all the major plotlines for the entire X-universe this trend will continue. According to Marvel, Spectacular Spider-Man #226 will contain Spidermans true identity. To heck with O.J., Spider-Man is in trial! 2099 titles continue to sell, especially Doom and X-Men. Wolverine will have to deal with problems created in Wolverine #90. Everyone wants their Ren and Stimpy.

INDEPENDENTS: Independent publishers continue to take more and more of the market share with better quality and books that ship on time. Bad girl book seem to be here to stay. Lady Death, Vampirella, Shi, Razor Ect are but a few. Avengelyne, written by Liefeld and the original Vampirella model Cathy Christian will turn some heads. Star Wars books continue to sell out. Image continues to lead the pack with titles like Gen 13, Spawn, Wildcats, and the top talent in the industry. Be on the lookout for Ripclaw #1, Grifter #1, and after Spawn's battle with the Redeemer his look will be drastically changed. Teckno Comix continue to surprise us with refreshing material. Topps need a second print run to meet demand. Bart Sears will be taking on the X-O artistic duties. Valiant sales will significantly increase with the addition of John Ostrander, Dan Jurgens, Dick Giordano, and Bart Sears among others, especially with the addition of Magic the Gathering Comics. Were outta here for now.

TOY FAIR 1995-WHERE THE ACTION WAS!

BY JIM MAIN

Hey, CVM readers, what do Batman, Wetworks, Judge Dredd, WildC.A.T.S., Cyberforce, Spawn, Spider-Man, The Fantastic Four, Youngblood, The X-Men, Phantom 2040, Ghost Rider and Iron Man all have in common? No, They're not all part of some tremendous super hero multi-chapter, cross-over, slug fest, but instead, just some of the action figure lines that we'll be seeing this year and beyond! All of them were previewed at the 1995 International Toy Fair, and your intrepid action figure fan reporter that being yours truly, was there covering the, eh, action!

Let's kick off with Mattel, who had three interesting super-hero lines to show off, first with CYBERFORCE. Yep, Mark Silvestri's comic book group will have their own series of figures from Mattel as well as accessories and these toys will ship form July through to October. The figure line up consist of Stryker, Cyblade, S.H.O.C. Troop, Ripclaw, Velocity, Ballistic, Heatwave, Megawatt, Killjoy, Impact, Psychotron, S.H.O.C. #2, Buzzcut, Stryker #2, Mekadom, and Ripclaw #2. Also Available are these vehicles and playsets. Stryker Interceptor, Ripclaw Marauder, Mega Blade Raider, Mega Blade Raider, Mega Jump Jet, and the Cyberforce Headquarters (Subplex). And If your looking for some really big figures, their will also be a set off Cyberforce collector figures, starting off with Stryker and Ballistic. The regular Cyberforce figures are not the "normal" action figure size, but smaller. I'd say they're about 3 to 3 1/2 inches in height and not the best in posability. However, they make up for all that in incredible detail! The same is true for the JUDGE DREDD line. This series of figures and accessories is of the same size and articulation as Cyberforce, but with great looking detail. Based on the upcoming movie starring Sylvester Stallone, the figures are made up of four variations of Dredd himself, plus Fergie, Sharkey, Fargo, Judge Hunter, Mean Machine, Pugley, Fink Angel, Hershey, Judge Death, Rico, "Perp" and the ABC Robot. Ambush Alley, Block War and the Hall of Justice make up the various action playsets and there's a 16 inch limited collectors edition Dredd figure as well. This toy line will ship from May through November. The last superhero type action figure line offered by Mattel is based on the syndicated cartoon series PHANTOM 2040 You have to see these figures to believe them! They have exactly the same style as the animated series itself and are larger than the previously mentioned action figures from Mattel. The figures are of the Phantom 2040, Guran, Graft, Biot, Kit Walker, and Rebecca Madison. Also available will be the Phantom on Hypercycle, 10 inch Graft figure with weaponry features, and a Phantom 2040 hovercraft. A 15 inch tall Phantom 2040 figure with a glowing skull chest completes this line. These toys will be shipping from September through August. I have to add that I was kind of disappointed that Mattel had this line at their showroom but wasn't exactly showing it off as much as they should! It was almost as if they were embarrassed by it! I know they were doing what they could to hype the heck out of the other action figure lines, but this one certainly deserved more attention!

Playmates did such a fabulous job with the characters form Jim Lee's WILDC.A.T.S series. They'll be adding to the line of action figures with Zealot in full body uniform, Night Spartan, Voodoo, Pike, Void, Black Razor, Majestic, Slag, Hightower, and Defile. Also be on the lookout for a series of 10 inch figures of Zealot, Spartan, Grifter, Maul, and Warblade. Some way cool accessories will also make the scene this year like the MRV (Multi Task Reconnaissance Vehicle), a Grifter Blaster hand gun as well as a series of four 20" super-soft figures called, Practice Pals! I've also got to mention that there's also a planned Jim Lee Signature series of the Teenage Mutant Turtles coming soon that you've got to see to believe. "They're bigger badder and bulked up for battle!" It's what you'd expect them to look like if Lee has the chance to do them his way! And, on a joint note look for something involving THE SAVAGE DRAGON coming your way this year from Playmates also. He'll be teaming up with the Turtles this year on their show and will be part of an action figure series as well. More news on this to follow.

The Hasbro Toy Group which is comprised of Kenner as well , had very little to offer in the superhero action figure category. Basically, we have the various Batman related lines and the MASK! Let's start off with Batman, shall we? The big Batman movie, Batman Forever, will see a line of action figures of its own this year and the figures you'll get will be Blast Cape Batman, Fireguard Batman, Sonar Sensor Batman, Transforming Bruce Wayne/Dark Knight, Manta Ray Batman, Night Hunter Batman, Street Biker Robin, Hydro Claw Robin, Transforming Dick Grayson/Robin, Two Face and the Riddler. Two deluxe figures, Attack Wing Batman, and Martial Arts Robin will be available at roughly $9.99 each and a Batman and Robin two-pack at $13.99 and the 13" tall Ultimate Batman will also be on hand this year. All these figures will have the looks of the actors involved with the film. Vehicles and accessories that will sport the BATMAN FOREVER packaging will be the Robin Cycle, Batwing, Electronic Batmobile, Batman Forever Batmobile, Aerodisk Shooter, Power Armor Set, Electronic Bat Signal Blaster, Combat Utility Belt and two BIG playsets: the Wayne Manor Batcave Compound ($49.99) and the Batcave Central Command ($69.99). LEGEND OF THE BATMAN continues this year with new additions Viking Batman, Samurai Batman, Knightsend Batman, Longbow Batman, Dark Warrior Batman, Crusader Robin and the Riddler. Three deluxe figures in the vac-metalized look for this line are Flightpack Batman, Silver Knight Batman, and Desert Knight Batman. The BATMAN: THE ANIMATED SERIES will feature a different style of packaging due to the show being retitled THE ADVENTURES OF BATMAN AND ROBIN. There's a basic assortment of figures made up of Bola Trap Robin, Glider Robin, Cyber Gear Batman, Radar Scope Batman and the villainous Bane, New this year is the Crime Squad assortment, Featuring the Dynamic Duo outfitted in state of the art battle suits. The figures to this set are Air Assault Batman, Land Strike Batman, Torpedo Batman, Ski Blast Robin, Sea Claw Batman, Stealthwing Batman and Piranha Blade Batman. The Crime Squad has a vehicle as well to aid them in their fight against crime, the triple attack jet, which transforms into three missile jets. Let's move form Gotham City to Edge City and the home of a character almost as wild as the Joker himself, The Mask. The Mask will be bouncing his way out to TV screens this year as he's the star of his own animated series on CBS this September. He's also got his own action figure line, each with it's own fantastic feature! There's the killing time Mask, Face Blastin Mask, Heads-Up Mask, Heads-up Dornan, Quick Draw Mask, Wild Wolf Mask, Chompin Milo, Tornado Mask and Bomb Blast Mask figure. Special features are the fully poseable talking Mask figure, with four sayings; the super stretch Mask figure, which can stretch up to 3 feet; the 16" Mask figure with action head, which features pop-out eyes and tongue; and the Mask's pet Milo with poseable front legs and styled like the movie version. The Mask Cycle is a wild set of wheels and features a removable sidecar and exclusive Milo figure. And to let the kids really go wild, there's a Mask mask, with eye popin and tongue flicking action! SSSMOKIN'! Hasbro/Kenner was a bit of a disappointment as we had expected to see a planned Superman line this year but it was a no show.
